Introduction

The British Neuropsychological Society (BNS) was formed in 1989 as a result of the joining together of two former groups: the Neuropsychology Interest Group (NIG) and the Cognitive Neuropsychology Groups (COGNIG).

The purpose of the amalgamation was to bring together those interested in clinical and cognitive neuropsychology.

The aims of the BNS are the “furtherance of scientific enquiry within the field of neuropsychology and cognate subjects, by holding periodical meetings at which papers may be read and discussions held to enhance communication among those scientific disciplines which can contribute to the understanding of brain behaviour relationships and neuropsychological disorders in particular...”.

The majority of the current 489 members, have full membership status and are psychologists, but other health and academic professions are also represented. According to the Society’s Constitution (see 3.1 page 18) membership is open to anyone who can demonstrate a commitment to Neuropsychology.

Associate membership is open to those with an interest in neuropsychology who do not meet the criteria for membership (see 3.2 page 19) and to date we have 98 associate members.

The society meets twice a year, traditionally holding two-day meetings in the Spring and the Autumn. The Spring meeting includes the Presidents' invited lecture, the Elizabeth Warrington Prize lecture and the Annual General Meeting. Previous Presidents' invited lectures and Elizabeth Warrington Prize lectures are listed on pages 13-14 and page 16, respectively. The Autumn meeting includes the Freda Newcombe Prize Lecture and the John Marshall Debate. Previous Freda Newcombe Prize Lectures and John Marshall Debates are listed on pages 15 and 17, respectively.

Meetings are currently held at the National Hospital, Queen Square, London. However, the exceptions to this are the following autumn meetings: in 1996 it was held in Birmingham, in 1998 in Manchester, in 2000 in Nottingham and 2002 in York. There is currently no charge for attending meetings for members, whereas non-members pay a nominal registration fee. Joint meetings have been held with other groups, such as the Association of British Neurologists (1995), the British Neuropsychiatric Society (1996), the Dutch Neuropsychological Society (1997 and 2015), the Società Italiana di Neuropsicologia (2001), and the Société de Neuropsychologie de Langue Française (2016). A joint meeting with the Division of Neuropsychology of the British Psychological Society will be held in March 2017.

A number of postgraduate bursaries are available each year to support attendance at BNS meetings. Each bursary has a maximum value of £200. Applications must be supported by a BNS member.

This handbook contains details of past executive committee members dating back to 1989 (pages 7 to 12) and information on BNS member's research interests and their contact details as of June 2015 (pages 26 to 62). Please notify the Honorary Secretary in writing of any errors or omissions.

Constitution

1.1 The Society shall be called "The British Neuropsychological Society"

2. Aims

2.1 The aims of the Society shall be the furtherance of scientific enquiry within the field of Neuropsychology and cognate subjects, by holding periodical meetings at which papers may be read and discussions held, to enhance communication among those scientific disciplines which can contribute to the understanding of brain-behaviour relationships and neuropsychological disorders in particular, and by such other activities as may be decided upon by the Society.

2.2 The Society shall not engage in any activity intended to affect the professional status of its Members.

2.3 In furtherance of these aims the Society shall have the following powers:

(a) to invest the monies of the Society not immediately required for its purposes in or upon such investments, securities or property as may be determined by the Society.

(b) to do all such other lawful things as are necessary for the attainment of the above aims.

3. Membership

3.1 Membership shall be open to anyone who can demonstrate a commitment to Neuropsychology, normally indicated by one of three routes:

(a) clinical neuropsychology - clinical psychology doctorate or equivalent, and subsequent work in the field of clinical neuropsychology;

(b) neuropsychology research – PhD (but in exceptional circumstances, another postgraduate qualification) in an area of neuropsychological interest and publication(s) in the field of neuropsychology or experimental psychology;

(c) other cognate discipline - clinical or postgraduate qualification, at a level which is commensurate with a PhD/doctorate, and subsequent clinical or research experience in any area related to neuropsychology (e.g. psychiatry, neurology, speech and language therapy, neuroscience, occupational therapy).

3.2 Associate membership shall be open to those with an interest in Neuropsychology who do not meet the criteria for membership in 3.1 (e.g. trainees, postgraduate students including PhD students, research assistants, assistant psychologists, therapists). Associate members may attend meetings including the AGM but will not have voting rights. A reduced subscription rate will be determined at the AGM. Associate membership is available for a maximum of six years during which time it is expected that associate members will become eligible for full membership.

3.3 The BNS executive committee reserves the right to refuse or withdraw membership at its discretion subject to ratification by the AGM.

4. Election to Membership

4.1 Election to membership shall be by majority vote of the Executive Committee. In the event of votes being tied, the application shall fail.

4.2 In making application for Membership, applicants shall require the nomination of one Member of the Society.

5. Subscriptions

5.1 Each Member shall pay an annual subscription, the amount of such subscription to be determined at the Annual General Meeting.

5.2 The Executive Committee shall be at liberty to determine whatever further charges for attendance at meetings of the Society, or for publications, as it considers appropriate within the Aims of the Society.

5.3 Members who fail to pay the annual subscription will be deprived of their Membership upon the decision of the Executive Committee.

6. Executive Committee

6.1 There shall be an Executive Committee consisting of four Officers and six Ordinary Members of the Committee, all of whom shall be Members of the Society.

6.2 The four Officers shall be a President, an Honorary Secretary, a Meetings Secretary and a Treasurer. The President shall be elected for two years and shall not be eligible for re-election within three years. The Honorary Secretary, Meetings Secretary and Treasurer shall be elected for two years, after which each shall be immediately eligible for re-election, the maximum continuous tenure of office not to exceed six years.

6.3 Ordinary Members of the Executive Committee shall be elected for three years and shall not be eligible for re-election within a further three years, unless there are insufficient applicants to take their place.

6.4 The President, Honorary Secretary, Meetings Secretary, Treasurer and Ordinary Members of the Executive Committee shall be elected by Members present at the Annual General Meeting. Candidates for these offices shall be proposed and seconded by two Members of the Society, such nominations to be received by the Honorary Secretary at least four weeks before the Annual General Meeting and circulated to members at least two weeks before the Annual General Meeting. In the event of there being more than one candidate and the votes being equally divided, the President currently in office shall hold the deciding vote.

6.5 Ordinary Members of the Executive Committee assume office immediately following the Annual General Meeting at which they are elected. Officers may be elected one year in advance of taking up their duties, and co-opted to the Executive Committee.

6.6 The President or the President's nominee shall chair meetings of the Executive Committee, which shall be held on at least two occasions during the year, and no business shall be transacted without there being at least two Officers and two Ordinary members present.

6.7 The Executive Committee shall have the power to form such other sub-committees as it considers fit.

6.8 The Executive Committee shall appoint an Archivist to maintain records of BNS meetings and other matters of interest to the Society. The Archivist will receive details of and be entitled to attend all meetings of the Executive Committee. The post shall be reviewed not less than once every 5 years, when the Archivist shall present a report on material held in the BNS archives.
